

2024–2025 Affordable Housing PORTFOLIO

INTRODUCTION TO THE AFFORDABLE HOUSING PORTFOLIO

Welcome to the Prince George's County Department of Housing and Community Development's (DHCD) Affordable Housing Portfolio. The contents of this publication showcase the work we do, along with for profit and non-profit real estate developers, and the support of the County Administration and the Prince George's County Council. Through the finance programs of the HOME Investment Partnership, the Housing Investment Trust Fund, the Right of First Refusal (ROFR) Program and the ROFR Preservation Loan Fund, DHCD provides subordinate debt gap financing to affordable housing developers to construct, rehabilitate and preserve affordable housing opportunities for low-to-moderate income households.

With increasing market demand of rental property, the investments made by the County in affordable housing are not only helping us to protect and expand quality, safe homes that residents of all incomes can afford, but also play a key role in contributing to the creation and preservation of healthy and inclusive communities where access to opportunity is increased.

DHCD does not sell, own, or lease any properties. If you would like more information on any of the housing communities contained in this publication, call the property management office or the developer directly to inquire about leasing opportunities. Right of First Refusal Properties

Right of First Refusal Properties

According to County Resolution CR-51-2015, the County may exercise its Right of First Refusal (ROFR) when an owner of a multi-family rental facility of 20 units or more intends to sell a multi-family property. DHCD has the authority to purchase the property or assign its rights in an effort to stabilize, preserve, and expand housing opportunities for low- and moderate income households and increase the availability of quality affordable rental housing in designated areas of the County.

The number of units preserved as affordable varies from one transaction to another. In some instances, a percentage of the property's units are preserved as affordable, where in other instances, 100% of the units are preserved affordable.
