Trend and Analysis

The Office of Emergency Management conducts numerous exercises and training sessions and preparedness campaigns throughout the County during the fiscal year to educate personnel in emergency preparedness. Emergency preparedness, including developing crisis/disaster plans and training employees is crucial for the workplace. Prince George's County employs over 7,200 individuals, and planning for all potential emergencies will help County employees to be ready for unexpected situations. Agency size and the workforce will determine specific training requirements. However, all employees should be trained on all the functions and elements of the agency emergency action plan (EAP) and the types of emergencies that could potentially occur at work. The threat of terrorism and active shootings pose new challenges to local governments. Terrorism can impact essential government services and economic functions. For these reasons, preparations should be made in advance of emergencies to ensure that Prince George's County maintains operational stability. The agency has spent a lot of time developing and executing training and exercise plans which is evidenced in the increases over time for hours spent on these activities.

Trend and Analysis

The agency provides a comprehensive emergency management program, where its mission is to create resilient communities through preparedness, response, mitigation and recovery. Mitigation and recovery are often the least served in the field of emergency management, but the agency plans to develop and strengthen initiatives with both County agencies and stakeholders to mitigate and prevent future disasters and protect the County residents, businesses and visitors. The agency will develop and conduct trainings on recovery initiatives and develop and/or update mitigation plans that aim to reduce risk and recover efficiently and effectively.
