Permit Plan Review Tracker

Click PG-County App Tracker or type the url into your browser — <https://dpiemapracker.princegeorgescountymd.gov>

NOTES:

- You will need the specific permit application number to use this tracking tool.
- If your application number does not contain letters or if your application is not yet in the plan review process, your application will not show up in this tracking tool yet.

Permit LookSee

Click PG County Property Explorer or type the url into your browser — <https://lookseeproperty.princegeorgescountymd.gov/search-results-page-30048>

NOTE: You can search using the application number OR the address (see blue dot in the Look See image below). Select one tab (see horizontal list starting with Building Permits in the image below). Click “search.”

All permits applied for on or after May 1, 2023, are in Momentum (except as noted in the Legacy ePermit column on this chart).

All licenses (Business, Rental, and Health) are applied for in Momentum.

(Business and Rental Licensing started in Momentum on Oct. 13, 2020. Health Licensing, with the exception of Well and Septic Permits, was added to Momentum on Oct. 25, 2021. Before the implementation of Momentum, all Business Licenses and Health Permit/Licenses were issued in ePermits.)

Search for Permits in the ePlan System (ProjectDox)

ePlan Case Status

Click Permits & Inspections Search, Status and History or type the url into your browser — <https://eplans.princegeorgescountymd.gov/projectdox/>

Detailed Steps to Check the ePlan Status of Your Permit

1. Log in to ePlan (ProjectDox).
2. Click the “ALL PROJECTS” button.
3. Search for the Specific Permit Case.
4. Click and open the Specific Permit Case.
5. Click the “PROJECT REPORTS” button.
6. Click the “Projectflow — Parallel Review — Workflow Routing Slip Report.” This report will show where the project is in the process. This includes every date when the permit case was submitted to and from the agency and applicant. Any task listed as “PENDING” or “ACCEPTED” reflects that the case is at this step.
7. Click the “Projectflow — Parallel Review — Department Review Status.” This report will show the review status for each department reviewer and reviewer comments.

Permit Status in ePlan is only available to the permit applicant for each case!

NOTE to Owners and Developers:

It is typical to hire an engineer, architect, contractor, or permit expediter to submit your ePlan case, in which case these parties are the ePlan “applicant.”

If you are the permittee or owner, you should REQUEST THAT THE ePLAN APPLICANT INCLUDE YOU AS “APPLICANT-OWNER-PRINCIPAL,” so you can also access your ePlan cases to check the status of your permits.
